OUR EDUCATIONAL AWARDS:

FELLOWS AWARD

Perhaps the most significant accomplishment to date in the history of the AVIR is the development of the Fellows category. To achieve AVIR Fellow status, a member must demonstrate contributions in 3 areas:

1.Personal achievements

2.Contributions to the AVIR
3.Contributions to their profession in the field of vascular and interventional radiology.

In recognizing the individual achievements of our members, we acknowledge the standard they have set and challenge ourselves and our profession to seek that level and beyond.

The first AVIR Fellows were recognized at the 1996 AVIR Annual Meeting in Seattle, Washington. It remains the highest honor for an AVIR member. We are proud to distinguish our Fellows with the FAVIR designation.

AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE

The member receiving this annual award is nominated by his/her peers for his/her contribution to Interventional Radiology. The Award for Excellence is meant to recognize the "backbone" of our organization, the unsung hero, the clinical technologist. The first recipient was honored in Seattle, Washington, at the Annual AVIR meeting. The recipient is nominated then voted on by the Board of Directors.

AWARD OF EDUCATIONAL EXCELLENCE

Our newest award honors a VI student for demonstrating their passion to the field through their commitment to patient care, research and innovation, and pursuit of continued learning.
